

Oratio ad Defensorem Nocturnum

Powerful Setian Nocturnal Prayer Of Protection Against All Evil And Nightmares

Rex Set Typhon 2025 CE

I looked up at the stars and there she was, with her beautiful blue body covering the entire night sky.

The stars were on every inch of her beautiful body.

I was in awe at her.

In total completeness and peace staring eternally at her eternal beauty.

Then I inhaled the smoke from my sacred herb and the muse seduced the scribe with a great fire in his soul and the great one appeared in the darkness behind the seven stars.

Then the mighty Set spoke his voice loud like thunder but gently vibrating waves of light and sound in the eye of his storm which I resided.

I destroy every thought that is Apep.

I do not fear death or the unknown serpent in the night.

For I am eternal like my mother and father in the imperishable stars.

I destroy every fear that is Apep.

I have conquered him this hour and I shall conquer him every night and every hour until Ra riseth again every morning in the east evermore.

I have slain Osiris but I resurrect and protect him and all the gods of the Neteru that dwell in Khem and in the foreign lands.

I am the son of Nut and Geb.

I am loud and my voice shakes the earth with inward fire.

I destroy every thought that is Apep.

I am the strongest among the gods for I shower the sky and earth with pulsating rays of lightning.

Apep does not harm me.

Apep cannot harm me.

My scepter is made of lightning and plasmonic fire!

I shape and carve mountains.

I slay all the enemies of Ra and I do all these things when the darkness falls.

My familiars are Typhonic beast of dreadful and mighty creatures.

They are aware and always around.

Protecting my home.

Protecting my mother.

Protecting my father.

Protecting my sons.

Protecting my daughters.

Protecting me.

They are dragons and griffins and Typhonic beast that follow my every command.

They watch over the boat and my home at night.

Mighty is their power and eternally loyal they are.

Guarding the secrets of the king's chamber and eternal beauty of the stars.

My star chamber is aimed towards the 7 who are eternal.

Who are magnificent.

Who still are burning for aeons and aeons.

I too shall be with them but I am here with you now.

I tell you these things and my secrets are forever hidden. Close thine mouth and seal it, point thine finger to thine lips and make the sacred sign of silence.

Cherish the cosmos and the hidden secrets forever hidden. Close thine eyes and open thine real eye and make the sacred sign of silence.

I shall make you lucky and wealthy and all that your heart desires on this plane. I know the hearts of men and their nature to the earth.

I shall make you a king and happy within the realm of kings and gods and goddesses.

No evil shall come near you for I shall annihilate it.

No sickness shall come near you for I shall keep you healthy and safe.

I will do all these things in the night.

I shall be with you when you sleep.

I fight Apep and his demons and evil spirits that bring nightmares.

For I am the greatest nightmare and the destroyer of all illusions.

Eternal one.

He who shakes the heavens and the earth. Mighty one.

All demons obey me and all gods obey and respect my absolute power.

Behold, for it is I who ride on thunder clouds.

I who make the light shape the valley and move mountains.

I who make the earth rumble and shake.

I who impregnate the earth with hidden fire and lava from the upper fire.

I fear nothing.

I destroy every thought that is Apep.
I slay the chaos serpent of illusion and fear.
I fear nothing.
I am the mighty red one.
With my khopesh I cut that which does not serve my purpose away.
I exorcise the darkest void and bring forth radiant celestial energy.
I bring back within myself the unfolding of space time.
I dance aloft the stars of Nuit and see the black bull's toridal horns in the deepest parts of space.

I will be with you always.
I will protect you always.
Mighty is my power and strength.
I will grant you a part of my power.
I will show you how to fold space time.
I shall grant you much valor.

You are now an imperishable one.
You are now a part of the eternal one.
Aeons and aeons you drift into the stars and beauty of the galaxy with the gods and goddesses on the barque boat.
Onto the journey of seeking and eternal gnosis with your hearts every burning desire eternally fulfilled.
The soul ever gaining more strength and knowledge surrounded by eternal beauty.

Back to this place and journey you shall go upon death.
Back to the eternal stars.
For you cannot die.
For Apep will always lose.
For Maat will always be protected.
For all balance will be restored.
For all justice will be restored.
For all peace will be restored.
The boat is safe my son.
I will protect you while you rest, behold for I own the night.
